Hearing Services Website – Public User Guide

Introduction

What Is The Website?

The Department of Health's hearing services website – www.hearingservices.gov.au, provides people with up to date information about hearing, hearing loss and hearing services available in Australia; and allows people to:

- Check their eligibility for the Australian Government Hearing Services Program (the program).
- Apply for the program online.
- Check the status of their application.
- Search a provider directory.

The website has been developed to comply with the WCAG 2.0 accessibility requirements - Level AA.

About The Hearing Services Program

The Department of Health (the Department) manages the program, which provides eligible people access to a range of hearing services including:

- a comprehensive hearing assessment;
- hearing rehabilitation services, including information and support;
- a wide range of quality free-to-client hearing devices; and
- an optional annual maintenance agreement so that clients can receive repairs and batteries to support their hearing device for a small fee.

About This Guide

This user guide is for the general public and contains information on how to use the website, including the online application form. If you prefer, quick reference guides are available for download from the website.

How the website and content is displayed depends on your local computer settings.

Hearing Services Program Website – Public User Guide

1.3.2 Check your eligibility – existing application

If this screen appears, you have a successful application for hearing services. You will need to get a medical certificate or statement from your doctor stating whether you can be fitted with a hearing device, if you need one. Once you have this certificate/statement you can then contact a service provider who will finalise the application process.

The screenshot shows the Australian Government Department of Health Office of Hearing Services website. The navigation menu includes 'About the Program', 'Eligibility for Hearing Services', and 'For Hearing Professionals'. The breadcrumb trail is 'Home > How to Apply > Check eligibility > Apply > Arrange your hearing services'. A progress bar shows four steps: 1. Check your eligibility, 2. Tell us how to contact you, 3. Get a medical certificate, and 4. See a hearing services provider. Step 3 is highlighted in green. Below the progress bar, a section titled 'Steps 3 & 4' contains the heading 'Get a doctor's certificate and see a hearing services provider'. A green checkmark icon indicates that the user's records show they have already lodged an application and are eligible for hearing services. The text explains that the next step is to get a medical certificate from a doctor and provides a link to download the form. It also mentions a preferred hearing services provider and a link to the provider directory. A 'Click here to print Medical Certificate' link is present. Below this is the 'Local hearing services provider directory' section, which includes a search form with fields for 'Location*' (Street, Suburb or Postcode) and 'Provider name (optional)' (Provider Name), a 'Find' button, and a 'Finish' button at the bottom.

Step 1 Obtain a medical certificate/statement

For new clients: before you are able to receive services through the program you will need to obtain a medical certificate or statement from your doctor.

If you do not already have one you will need to visit your doctor and ask them to complete the medical certificate form. You will receive a printed medical certificate with your client information or you can click on the Click here to print Medical Certificate link provided and print a copy to take it with you to a doctor.

Step 2 Contact a Service provider

Contact a service provider to discuss your application.

If you do not already have a service provider you can search the online local provider directory. The directory will be available to you on this screen. You can search by location, and if you know the name of your preferred service provider you can include this in the search criteria. To learn more about finding a service provider go to section two of this guide.

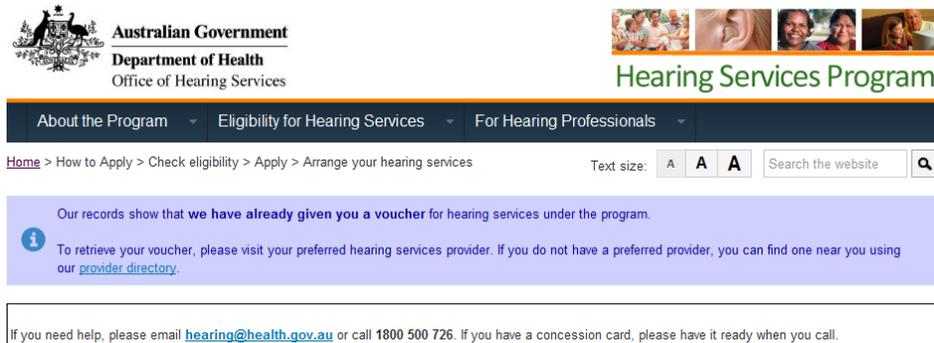

Step 3

When you have finished click the Finish button.

1.3.3 Check your eligibility – already vouchered

If this screen appears, it means that you have already accessed services through the program. To continue to receive services visit your chosen service provider.

The screenshot shows the top of the website with the Australian Government logo and the Department of Health Office of Hearing Services. The main navigation bar includes 'About the Program', 'Eligibility for Hearing Services', and 'For Hearing Professionals'. Below the navigation bar, there is a breadcrumb trail: 'Home > How to Apply > Check eligibility > Apply > Arrange your hearing services'. A search bar is visible with the text 'Text size: A A A' and 'Search the website'. A blue information box contains the following text: 'Our records show that we have already given you a voucher for hearing services under the program. To retrieve your voucher, please visit your preferred hearing services provider. If you do not have a preferred provider, you can find one near you using our provider directory.' Below this, a white box with a black border contains the text: 'If you need help, please email hearing@health.gov.au or call 1800 500 726. If you have a concession card, please have it ready when you call.'

Local hearing services provider directory

To find a local provider, enter a city, town, suburb or post code, and click the Find button. You can also add the name of a preferred provider, if you have one.

Step 1 Contact a service provider

If you do not have a service provider you can search the online local provider directory. The directory will be available to you on this screen.

You can search by location, and if you know the name of your preferred service provider you can include this in the search criteria. To learn more about finding a service provider go to section two of this guide.
